

FSG Announces Vice President Chad Owens - California

"There are tremendous opportunities for FSG within California, moving forward with the combined resources of the California divisions and the support structure that has been developed by Corporate, we will have the ability to make FSG a dominant force in the market."

- Chad Owens

In a growing and ever-evolving market, the FSG Institution sees an opportunity to build up current resources in California by placing Chad Owens as the new Vice President of FSG California.

With tremendous opportunities at his disposal, Chad is elated to build upon the foundation that has been laid by both Jared Johnson and Ronnie Sharp in California.

Beginning with FSG in 2018, Chad was able to experience and learn Jared's leadership style, which centered around pleasing his customers and employees before anyone else. Jared's influence, paired with Chad's experience in finance and operations, has equipped him to serve as Division VP.

When asked of his plans on how he will ensure both teams feel valued and respected under one roof, Chad says, "I believe in being transparent with my team and giving opportunities to those who want them. I trust and empower my team to make the best decision possible with the information they have available."

Join us as we congratulate Chad on his new appointment and best of luck to him in leading FSG California into this next phase.
